Refusing to Shut Down: Foodservice and Coronavirus

2 p.m. Central | April 3, 2020

Consumers have formed new routines and shifted attitudes in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, but the foodservice industry has responded actively too. This webinar connects the data points from Datassential's ongoing coronavirus research to tell the story of how consumers and operator are coping, how the supplier and manufacturer community can help, and how much of this "new normal" might persist in people's approach to food.
